HOW TO USE ESTIMATED BREEDING VALUES (EBVs)

1. What Are EBVs?

Many factors influence the appearance and performance of a bull. For example, age, nutrition, management, age of dam, health, season, quality of farm and the genes it has inherited from its parents. The only factor that can be passed on to its calves, however, is its inherited genetic potential. Estimated Breeding Values are measures of that potential and are calculated from the following:

- Measurements from the animal itself
- Measurements from the animal's herd mates (known as 'contemporaries')
- Measurements from the animal's relatives and their contemporaries
- The degree to which one trait influences another (known as a 'correlation')
- The degree to which each trait is passed on to the next generation (known as 'heritability')

Each EBV calculation involves solving a set of simultaneous equations where the 'unknowns' are the genetic value of the animal and the environmental effect on its performance. When carried out many times, using all the information on the animal above, the equations are able to quantify the unknown genetic component.

The end result is the EBV and over time, as more pedigree and performance data is added, the solution to the equations becomes more accurate as the true breeding value of the animal is approached.

2. What EBV Information Is Available?

EBVs are produced for fourteen traits that focus on an animal's economic performance...

EBV	What Does the EBV Indicate?	Look for...
Birth Weight (kg)	Genetic potential for calf weight at birth	High negative EBVs if you want low calf birth weights
Calving Ease (%)	Ease with which a bull's progeny will be born	High positive EBVs if you want less assisted calvings
Maternal Calving Ease (%)	Ease with which a bull's daughters will calve	High positive EBVs if you want less assisted calvings
Gestation Length (days)	Genetic potential for gestation length	High negative EBVs if you want short gestation lengths
200 Day Milk (kg)	The maternal component of 200 day growth (i.e. the contribution that the milking and maternal abilities of a bull's daughters make towards their calves' growth at 200 days of age)	High positive EBVs if you want daughters to wean heavier calves
200 Day Weight (kg)	Genetic potential for growth from birth to 200 days of age	High positive EBVs if you want high growth rates to weaning
400 Day Weight (kg)	Genetic potential for growth from birth to 400 days of age	High positive EBVs if you want high growth rates to finishing
Muscle Depth (mm)	Genetic potential for muscularity and potential to increase lean meat yield	High positive EBVs if you want good calf conformation
Fat Depth (mm)	Genetic potential for leaner carcasses	Negative EBVs if you want to produce leaner carcasses or take calves to heavier weights without penalty for fatness
Age at 1st Calving (%)	Genetic potential for early sexual maturity	High negative EBVs for a greater proportion of heifers that hold to 1 st service
Longevity (years)	Genetic potential for long life in the breeding herd	High positive values for animals likely to remain in the herd for longer
Calving Interval (days)	Genetic potential for the time taken to get back in calf	High negative values to breed cows that get back in calf quickly
Docility (%)	Genetic potential for being calm when handled	High positive values for animals that are likely to be more calm when handled
Scrotal Circumference (cm)	Genetic potential for scrotal size. Linked to male serving capacity and puberty of daughters.	High positive values for animals with higher likely serving capacity and earlier maturing daughters.

3. What Are Breeding Indexes?

It is often desirable to select animals on the basis of more than one EBV. Breeding Indexes focus on specific breeding goals and combine the appropriate EBVs in to a single figure based on their relative economic value. This is widely regarded as the most efficient method of selecting on a number of traits at once.

Three Breeding Indexes are published at sales, as follows:

* EBVs not published at breed sales

When using an Index it is important that your breeding objective is broadly similar to that of the Index in question, otherwise you may unwittingly change aspects of your herd that you did not necessarily want to.

4. How to Use the Information in This Catalogue

EBVs are expressed in the same unit as the recorded trait (eg kgs for 400 Day Weight, mm for Muscle Depth etc) are relative to the Breed Average. In sale catalogues, Breed Average for each trait is represented by the vertical line that is central on the bar chart. Bars that lie to the right of that line indicate EBVs that are above average. The further to the right they lie, the higher above Breed Average they are. Equally, bars that lie to the left of the line indicate EBVs that are below Breed Average. The further to the left they are, the further below Breed Average they are. An example is as follows:

The numeric EBV values on the charts can be used to further refine comparison with the breed using the Breed Benchmark below. This is updated annually.

5. Things to Consider...

- To establish just how much influence a bull will pass on to his progeny it is important to remember to halve the value of the EBV, since the other half of a calf's genes comes from the cow.

For example, a bull with a 400-Day Growth EBV of +62 is estimated to have the genetic potential to be 62kg heavier at 400 days of age compared to a bull with an EBV of 0. His calves would be expected to be 31kg heavier at that age when compared to calves by a bull with an EBV of 0, since they only inherit half of their growth genes from their sire (the other half coming from their dam).

- Select animals using EBVs that are relevant to your farm, cow type and market
- Bear in mind that EBVs predict an animal's economic performance. They are no judge of factors such as soundness, locomotion, breed type etc and you must be satisfied with your potential purchase in these respects too.
- Consider the traits that will make you most money, but
- Don't forget to check traits you may be compromising in pursuit of your goals, such as Calving Ease etc

6. EBV & Pedigree Info Just a Click Away

EBV and pedigree information on all Limousin cattle are just a few internet clicks away...

- Step 1: Click the 'Basco Online Herd Book' button on the Limousin Society homepage (www.limousin.co.uk)
- Step 2: In the 'All Breeds Quick Search' box type the name or ear number of the animal you are interested in or click on the 'Breeder Search' button to look at all animals belonging to or bred by a particular breeder.
- The site will then tell you the animal's owner/breeder details, its EBVs, its pedigree and list its progeny with full links to all of their information.

7. Further Information

SALE OF THE THE GLANGWDEN SALE

A selection of "H" and "I" heifers together with the majority of the autumn calving heifers and cows with calves at foot will be offered for sale from the Glangwden Herd.

We have too many cattle around us!! By Spring we will be back up to the same numbers as we have several heifers coming into calf.

It has always been our aim to breed Limousin cattle with natural muscling and shape together with plenty of size, growth and milking abilities.

Probably the most influential sire on the herd was Paul (first Jacot son to come out of France) and included in the sale are two daughters of him.

Other herd sires include - Haltcliffe Ullswater (see bull index) , Powerhouse Emblem (Objat son) and latterly Gronw Handsome whose first crop of calves were born this Autumn to heifers, some of whom are included in the sale.

Herd Health Status:

- Currently on a 1 year TB testing interval, last clear test August 2014
- Member of a CHeCS controlled health scheme for Johne's & BVD
- Accredited free for BVD
- Risk Level 3 for Johne's
- Routinely vaccinating against BVD & Lepto
- All cows and dams of heifers entered in the sale have tested negative for Johnnes
